

THINGS & INK

IDENTITY – PORTRAITS | MODIFICATION | ADORNMENT

We are very pleased to announce our upcoming exhibition 'Identity – Portraits | Modification | Adornment' at Into You, London, in May 2014.

Launch party: Thursday 22 May from 7pm
Location: Into You, 144 St John St, London EC1V 4UA

The exhibition coincides with the launch of The Identity Issue – issue 7 of Things & Ink magazine – and celebrates the work of tattooists, photographers and artists. Each piece is the artist's interpretation of the theme – no restrictions or limitations. This collection, curated by the team at Things&Ink, is varied, exciting and thought-provoking.

Identity means something different to us all, and this collection of original artwork and photography – and The Identity Issue of Things&Ink magazine – explores the way our identities can be informed by the world around us and what we choose to do with our bodies.

There will be work from: Alex Binnie / Araceli 4ever / Andrea Furci / Axa Shireen Aimeé Cornwell / Antony Flemming / Clare Goldilox / Delphine Noiztoy / Duncan X / Joao Bosco Matt (Oddboy) Barratt-Jones / Susanna Widmann / Wendy Pham / Ramon Maiden / Luke Garwood / Heather Shuker / and a selection of artists from Into You Brighton and London

Notes for editors: Into You Tattoo is a well-established and extremely respected tattoo and piercing shop in the heart of central London. Into You has just celebrated their 20-year anniversary and working at the shop are some of the most talented artists in the industry.

Things&Ink is a magazine that celebrates tattoo culture with a feminine twist, an answer to the growing misogyny in tattoo media, the magazine encompasses lifestyle, art, culture, music, tattoos, literature and more. But at the heart of everything they do is a passion for tattoos.

For more information,
email editor Alice Snape,
alice@thingsandink.com

